

top 10 fall shows

by Fred Lunt

10. Supernatural- This is the start of the end for the show's final season. This season is expected to be darker than ever with Mark Pellegrino playing as The Devil. The usual chaos ensues while bringing light comedy in as well.

9. Heroes- Going into its fourth season Hero's kicks off this season with a two-hour premiere. The theme of this season is redemption for the supernatural characters. Most of the characters are trying to leave their powers behind and live their lives normally for their own individual reasons but as usual something evil steps out and prevent it from happening. But each character is working toward the same goal.

8. Grey's Anatomy- Also starting off with a two-hour premier Grey's anatomy returns with the usual dramatic twists and turn and shocking revelations that a dram show would. Light will be shed on characters that had been left open ends last season and the character Meredith will be expected to be pushed back on the count of actress Ellen Pompeo taking a break for maternity leave.

7. Sanctuary- Entering into its second season, the Sci-Fi thriller starts off where it left off last year with the main characters desperately searching for their friend Ashley as she turns more and more evil. The show will bring a new character, Kate Freelander (Agam Darshi), whom is quite similar to the Ashley character. The first few episodes will explain a lot about this season so be sure not to miss them if you are a viewer.

6. Fringe- In its sophomore season as well, Fringe is a hit Sci-Fi thriller on FOX. Delving into oddities and very intriguing topics Fringe picks up where it left off with its main character Olivia Dunham in an alternate universe and will continue further in the other things drawn up by the creative executive producer Jeff Pinkner.

5. Bones- Now in its fifth season Bones is a show that's gathered quite a large fan base and they are full of chatter about the new season. This season picks up with Booth waking up from his coma while Brennan is returning from a trip to Guatemala which is making many fans wonder more about Booth's recovery and why Brennan went to Guatemala. Also Booth's fantasy life will also play a role in the later episodes in the season.

4. Law and Order Special Victims Unit- Wentworth Miller, a new addition to the cast is joining for a stint and possibly more if all goes well. Miller could be being groomed to fill the spots of Christopher Meloni or Mariska Hargitay after their most recent contracts are through. The show will not change much for this season however; there will still be intense cases and fiery acting. Alexis Heisler, sophomore, stated that "it's my favorite show, I love the cute lawyers". She also stated that "I would definitely recommend it to a friend".

3. How I Met Your Mother- The hit comedy draws viewers to its fourth season and one step closer towards finding out who the "Mother" is. Ted starts a new job as a college professor and an ongoing series of Barney and Robin possibly being in love with each other. The show continues to keep the audience entertained while slowly drawing to the conclusion of finding out who the "Mother" is.

2. 30 Rock- the NBC smash comedy with outstanding writer Tina Fey writing. The show has been nominated for a total of 22 nominations with not just awards for writing but acting as well. The celebrity appearances are never-ending so the same will be expected for this season as well. The show will for sure gain at least one more nomination this year at the least.

1. Private Practice- A sister show of "Grey's Anatomy", "Private Practice" is much more mature this season with and older cast. The shows flaws are covered well by the tenured and more distinguished cast. The show is expected to have a good crowd for a more aged or mature viewers.

zombieland review

by Kyle Coley

Zombieland is not your average movie, its funny, scary, and gross. The movie star's Woody Harrelson, Jesse Eisenberg, Emma Stone and Abigail Breslin. I found this movie to be very funny and the best movie so far of the fall. The only thing I didn't like about the movie is that it's very short. It's not even an hour and half. Zombieland is very gorily that's the best part of movie it doesn't hide it. The movie really got me laughing. There's also a cameo by a very funny guy in this movie that just sealed the deal for me. Woody Harrelson stole the movie; he had all the funny lines. The last battle of the movie is by far the best I seen in a very long time. To the point I thought Woody's character was going to get kill, The music in it really got me pumped while watching this awesome movie. In the end I know this isn't the best movie ever but, I think people will always remember this movie. Is this the best zombie movie ever? No, it's up there though. So I give this a nine out 10. I think everyone should see this movie no matter if you're a fan of this kind of movie. It's a good laugh movie, maybe even a great date movie.

got to see movies

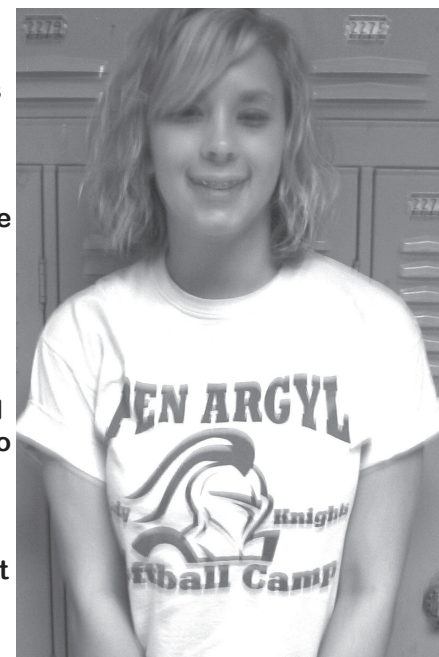

By Andrew Salamone

The Stepfather

This movie is about a family's new father and husband, but come to figure out the new member of the family is a serial killer. He breaks up families and then kills them. This time there's a twist, the son, Michael, is back from military school and suspects something strange of his soon to be stepfather. Michael figures out that his stepfather could match the description of a serial killer. Michael has to try and prove to the family who his stepfather really is before they end up dead. Paige Gerstenburg, a sophomore, says "I think the movie is going to be good...I would go see it because I like horror movies."

This Is It

For all you Michael Jackson fans out there this is a "die for" film. See how "the king of pop's" life was back stage and rehearsal. See Michael Jackson's passion for his music, and music in general. This film will be in theaters October 28 and will airing for two weeks only. Jessica Woolley, a freshman, thinks "the movie to me will be good but great...I don't think I'll watch it because I'm not a big fan of Michael Jackson."
